

HARVARD UNIVERSITY MID-CAREER MASTER IN PUBLIC ADMINISTRATION

This yearlong program in Public Administration at the John F. Kennedy School of Government at Harvard University in Cambridge, Massachusetts, is for the experienced public service professional. It is designed to strengthen participants' policy analysis and management skills, and prepare them for positions of greater leadership and responsibility.

Who Should Attend

Mid-career professionals who are motivated to become leaders in their field. They are expected to contribute to meeting society's need for excellence in government. GRE's are required.

Program Highlights

- Participants design study plans to strengthen their skills;
- Focuses on the broadest problems and highest level of responsibility;
- Emphasizes effective operations within legal, political and civil service constraints;
- Stresses successful negotiations and consensus building among diverse groups around substantive policy areas.

Offerings: One year program; once annually

Contact: Erica Clark
Admission Coordinator of MPA Program
79 John F. Kennedy Street
Harvard University
Cambridge, MA 02138 (Logan AP)
Fax: 617-496-1165
E-mail: admissions@ksg.harvard.edu
Web site:

Telephone: 617-495-1155

http://www.ksg.harvard.edu/degreeprograms/MPAMC/program_home.htm

Program Dates: July 2009 - June 2010

Cost: $36,168 – 2008; 2009 TBD

Includes tuition only;

Additional fees: $3,818, does not include health ins; Application - $80; Activity - $150; Books/materials - $2,407; Emergency On Campus Services - $1,426, mandatory; Health Ins. - $1,362, mandatory, if not self-insured.

Application Deadline: March 6, 2009 (Mason Program: December 5, 2008)