

SIMMONS COLLEGE STRATEGIC LEADERSHIP FOR WOMEN

This one-week intensive management program at Simmons College in Boston, Massachusetts will focus on how to work within your organization's structure to strategically develop a path for your professional success. Participation in this program will enhance your leadership style and reveal your competitive advantages as a women leader in business.

Who Should Attend

It is designed for women in mid- to upper-level management in any industry or sector who want to further develop leadership skills, or who are looking to strategically place themselves to make a successful transition to higher levels of leadership within their industry.

Program Highlights

- Use 360° feedback from co-workers, supervisors, and direct reports to gain an honest assessment of your abilities in order to improve your own leadership style;
- Participate in personal coaching with faculty who have extensive experience working with women in business;
- Present and gain feedback about specific leadership challenges you face in Group Experience Sharing sessions;
- “Step back” from daily work activity for serious reflection and strategic thinking about your career and leadership abilities; and
- Continue professional growth through on-line discussion subsequent to the completion of the program.

Offerings: Annually, one-week session

Contact: Andrea Sanni, Program Manager Telephone: 617-521-3834
Simmons College
Graduate School of Management
Executive Education Programs
409 Commonwealth Ave.
Boston, MA 02215
Fax: 617-521-3880
E-mail: execed@simmons.edu
Web site: www.simmons.edu/gsm/exec_ed

Program Dates: Oct 3 – 7 2004

Cost: $5,400 - 2004 (Includes: tuition, lodging, meals, books, materials. Programs starts Sunday evening so lodging is not included the night before the program starts.)

Application Deadline: Early enrollment suggested